

Hi All,

There are times when I wonder if the really sensible people of this world are the ones who refuse to have anything to do with broadband, wi-fi and the other motley bunch of aggravations associated with the digital revolution.

As some of you will know, I was 'hacked' earlier this week, and as a result a number of people got a ridiculous plea from me (supposedly) for a large sum of money to get me released from a prison somewhere in eastern Europe. The hacker might have been more successful trying to raise money to keep me there! Something similar appeared on Facebook a few days earlier.

The result - no money was raised, but several hours of my time has been wasted reinstating my e-mail service following the event. An inconvenient consequence is that I did not receive any e-mails between 7.00am on Friday morning and 9.00am on this Sunday. Worse, they have been lost forever. So if any readers have sent me e-mails during this period, please send them again. If they related to content for this week's e-letter, I can only apologise.

There are lessons to be learned for all of us. Internet security is important, and using secure and strong individual passwords for individual sites and internet services goes a long way towards tackling the problem. My next task is to review all my passwords, memorise the most important and keep them on a memory stick in a safe place.

Many thanks to those of you who called me about the problem. It was nice to chat and also the scam resulted in a long lost cousin to calling me, and we plan to meet again after a good many years. It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good.

Meanwhile, back on the ranch, the e-letter tells of forthcoming events.

Enjoy!

John

Just under twenty people attended the 60+ drivers event, sponsored by Winsham Parish Council on Thursday. Lot of interesting stuff, presented very professionally. I learned about tests for abdominal aortic aneurisms. I could have taken tests for driving reaction times. And had my eyes tested for driving. Personally I suffer from Ostrich Syndrome. I'm off to the beach now, but I can't remember where I left the car!!
