

Hi All,

With a busy week for the village community now behind us, with the exception of the Winsham Art Club Annual Exhibition which is open during this weekend, it is now time to turn our thoughts towards the winter, and of course, the run-up towards Christmas.

To start with, St.Stephen's has published its time table of Services until the end of the year. They can all be found by clicking on the link below , in the e-letter.

More immediate is the threat to our Red Telephone Box on the corner of Fore Street, Back Street and Church Street, which houses our important public telephone. Not only is this public telephone very important to a village that has a very poor mobile phone service, and which in the recent past has been an important factor in saving a life, the box itself is part of the character of the village. We can very easily make our views known to SSDC by clicking on the link below, and following the simple instructions. If you are lost for words, Winsham Parish Council have suggested some you might use (politically correct ones!)

Have you tried the new vegetable service being offered by the shop. It's really good. It is competitive and the quality is excellent. Among other things we are buying our chicory there, saving us a regular trip to Crewkerne, to the only other shop in the area where we can buy it. The management and staff of Winsham Shop and Post Office are doing a really good job, and we are buying ever increasing amounts. Well done everyone concerned.

For the Bee keepers among us , the Asian Hornet- a predator of UK Bees, have got into North Somerset, so the link below gives some ideas as to what can be done to fight off this new peril.

The battle for high speed broadband continues, with the Parish Council and me stirring the pot at every opportunity. We may get it by the end of the year, but as I have said before, don't hold your breath!

Regards,

John

Yesterday evening Winsham Art Club held the Preview for this year's Annual Exhibition. Well attended, the pictures displayed showed the wide range of talent that we have in our community, and within the Art Club. The exhibition is in the Jubilee Hall, between 10.00am and 4.00pm on Saturday and Sunday, and well worth visiting.
