

Hi All,

What a world we live in! This vale of tears! Terrorism, attempted coups, wars, poverty, disease. This seems to be a part of the human condition, which has been with us since pre-history. The main difference is that now populations are much bigger and TV , radio , and the Internet, bring the realities of these tragedies into our living rooms.

In the face of all this, the resilience of the ordinary people directly affected remains, and we should do all we can, however small our resources, to support them, and hope that one day humans can learn to live with one and other in peace. Should it be such a forlorn hope?

Meanwhile, life in Winsham continues, and as usual we have a good crop of announcements in our e-letter, supported of course by the Winsham Facebook page and Winsham Twitter. Great news about the St. Stephen's grant!

John

PS. Don't forget your quiz entries.
