

WINSHAM E-LETTER

Hi All,

Remembrance Sunday

The big event this weekend is Remembrance Sunday, and it is of course special , as it marks the centenary of the end of the Great War. It serves to remind us of the sadness that was felt by the Winsham families who lost fathers, sons and brothers. It should also remind us of the mindless slaughter of millions, from many nations, that occurred in that war and the terrible conflicts that have occurred since. One can only travel '*mourning and weeping in this vale of tears' in the hope that , one day, the horror of war will end forever.

The details of Winsham's Remembrance Service are below , in the e-letter.

Information about Winsham people who lost their lives in the conflict can be found on the Winsham Web Museum Site, in the Winsham at War gallery.

The rest!

The Home Page of the Winsham Parish Web site is now adorned in its Christmas outfit-and bright and cheerful it is too-but no music! Perhaps a bit early, but I never know when I will find time, so these jobs have to be done when the opportunity arises.

The Christmas Calendar of events appeared last week, and this week there is an addition-the opportunity to post your Christmas and New Year Greetings on the web site-full details of how to do this are given on the web page-and it is free!

The Village Organisations Web page has also been given a facelift, and has been up-dated in all sorts of ways. The Winsham Street Fair Committee has been added-well worth a read!

See the links below.

There is also improved Neighbourhood Watch coverage-look for the burglar down below!

Teresa Pinder , our Parish Clerk has also sent in a number of items which can be found on the Parish Council Portal Page-among others items, winter fuel poverty features. Also news that next year the opening hours at the Chard refuse disposal centre will be lengthened.

Lots of other items too.

Hope to see you on Sunday.

Bye,

John

* A phrase from the English translation of the 'Salve Regina'. Seemed to sum things up.

The first Remembrance Day service at Winsham Memorial is believed to have taken place in 1923. The memorial was built by public subscription, the land being donated by Mr Ward Coleridge. For more details click HERE.
