Hi All,

As we batten down the hatches in expectation of the big blow confidently expected by the weather forecasters for this weekend, it is for some perhaps an opportunity to snuggle down and browse the Parish Web site and the Winsham Web Museum.

The e-letter this week has some interesting items which are well worth looking at.

Find out how you can have your say on the climate emergency. Or on a lighter note discover how to prune your roses.

I am looking forward to seeing the Hash House Runners get on in their run around Winsham on Tuesday evening-it's all there in the e-letter.

E- Letter circulation continues to steadily grow-three more people joined the circulation list this week-must be up around the three hundred mark now. Even people who leave the village often like to continue to receive it. It has been published for about fourteen years now. Link this to The Winsham Community Facebook page, and the Joint Parish Magazine, and the Winsham Twitter feed, and local gossip, the combination of this coverage means that most residents have the opportunity to stay informed of local events.

The digging in Western Way is confirmed as the start of the new housing development, part of which will be the village car park. This should take some of the pressure off street parking in the village, which often makes problems for pedestrians and motorists alike. No doubt extra potential customers for the Shop and Post Office and The Bell will also be welcome.

To close, I understand that the response to the Parish Survey , organised by the Parish Council , has been good, and a lot of interesting comments have been harvested. It always takes some time before all the information can be collated and interpreted, but no doubt we will see the fruits of this effort in the months to come. Well done Parish Council, and all those who participated in the survey. That's it for this week.

John
